

I just recieved a notice that the CSA is thinking about giving the sellers of exempt market securities, the right to tell us we can't buy into if they deem it unsuitable for us. And requiring us to fill out "know your client forms" each time we want to invest in the exempt market securities.

We are against this intrustion into our finanical matters, we are both adults and wish to invest our hard earned money in whatever we want. And we don't feel that Ontario Securities Commission has to say about our business in Alberta. Unless you, the CSA, or the government is going to secure the above securities in event of loss, please stay out of our business.

Thank You

Swen and Colleen Hanson