

05/21/2008

John Stevenson/Iris Evans

I have been informed that Canadian Securities Administrators are proposing a "know your client" form to become a requirement if I choose to invest in an exempt market security. Exactly what is the purpose of this change? I do not want to divulge all my personal financial information - net worth, assets, liabilities, etc to my sales person.

Who would benefit from these changes?

thanks