Everyone is facing financial difficulties throughout this year. Although we may feel we are financially prepared, unexpected changes in a person's health, loss of employment or the economic impacts like the volatility in the stock market, can cause older adults to feel more vulnerable and less secure financially. The alarming rate of new frauds and scams related to COVID-19 are creating even more stressful times for everyone.

This webinar, "Money Tips for Difficult Times" will provide seniors with practical tips on how to plan for emergencies, what to do and not do when managing your money/assets and an opportunity to discuss the impacts on investments. Learn about:

- Vulnerability of older adults to financial abuse
- Warning signs of COVID-19 frauds and how to protect yourself
- Preparing for and managing your money
- Planning for emergencies
